

Italian Summer Course 2004

"Intensive Language and Culture"

29th June - 17th July 2004

LEVELS AND TEACHING OBJECTIVES

In order to assess their current level of Italian, students will take a placement test at the beginning of the course. This will consist in a written and oral test. At the end of the course a frequency and proficiency certificate will be issued to those students who have shown regular attendance and progress.

▪ Beginners and false beginners

At the end of this course students will be able to understand basic Italian and deal with real-life situations. Teaching material will include advertisements, short newspaper articles and examples of everyday Italian.

▪ Intermediate

At the end of this course students will be able to deal with everyday social situations and talk of their past, present and future experiences. They will also be able to understand non-specialized texts using simple grammar and write short descriptions or letters.

▪ Advanced

At the end of this course students will be able to understand everyday language in any situation. Teaching materials will include texts radio and television programmes, as well as extracts from semi-specialized lectures, telephone conversations and personal and business correspondence. They will be able to express themselves confidently in all situations and express their thoughts, feelings and personal opinions using a rich vocabulary together with a more refined grammar.

❖ Maximum number of students:

10-12 per class

❖ Teaching method

Teachers will follow a communicative-functional approach in order to develop the four basic language skills both separately and as a whole. At the beginning of the course a careful analysis will be carried out to evaluate the students' special needs and interests.

❖ Textbooks

The student's textbook will be one of the following:

➤ Meta Uno or Meta Due, Gruppo Meta, Roma, Bonacci Editore.
